Stalin-Tito Break Is Final 'Unless—'

Backdown By Kremlin Is Only Solution For Communist Split

John Gunther, on the basis of his recent trip to Yugoslavia and other countries on both sides of the Iron Curtain, analyzes the split between Tito and Moscow.

—By JOHN GUNTER

The celebrated break between Tito and the Kremlin is irreconcilable and complete, unless Moscow should take a sensational turn-about and back down. The Yugoslavs won't budge. This is the controlling impression I gathered in Belgrade and Zagreb from talks with Marshal Tito himself and other leaders.

I am summarizing other attitudes dominating Yugoslavia today more or less as follows:

First, the doughy Yugoslavia does not want to be likely in the near future. If war does come, they think that is the best Americans who start it, not the Russians, and that it will be the Russians who will win it, not the Americans. Why will the Russians win? Because, the Yugoslavs say, the lesson of modern history is that the aggressor is always beaten.

Gunther

Second, though they are still in the basic camp, the Yugoslavs are willing to do what they can to help the Comintern, as Communists but as better Communists than the Russians.

May Become Bridges

Nevertheless, third, Marshal Tito himself thinks that if the peace can be maintained, Yugoslavia may very well turn out to be bridges between East and West. He is convinced that the eastern and western Communists will survive and live by themselves, without Moscow control or interference. The question is, will the nations devoted to socialism as an ideal, but friendly to both sides.

Fourth, the Yugoslavs and the Russians are possible between the United States and Yugoslavia on the basis of improved trade, provided that the United States does not attempt any political influence or attempt to undermine its ally.

Tito has to be very cautious in his dealings with the United States, however, because if he should seem to be courting the gringos, he would be the first to be hit in the thumb of Moscow.

The Russians, with Tito's defection as they term it, sticking in their throats, have four alternatives. Punish Tito; make him

shrewd Diplomacy Needed

The basic reason for this situation—which should play into the hands of the Communists—is shrewd enough, of course, nationalism. Such various sub-sources of nationalism as the famous and angry memos exchanged between the Comintern and the Yugoslav government, as well as the peasantry, the loyalty of various Yugoslav officials, military policy, and the like, are all important contributory irritants. The sole fundamental issue, as a member of the Comintern put it to me, was simply whether or not Belgrade had to do every Russian's and cross every Russian's eye in order to make the cost of re-election was different. It was that a group of socialist republics, some of which were as friendly and together as friendly and co-operating equals. The Yugoslav communists, who were the ones who had to be the first to thumb of Moscow.

The Russians, with Tito's defection as they term it, sticking in their throats, have four alternatives. Punish Tito; make him

Belgrade Like Moscow

Belgrade may be having a fierce quarrel with Moscow but physically and emotionally it resembles Moscow. It is hot, humid, dirty, drab, lack of elegance and grace; long queues everywhere; even the most modest of food booths, terrible shortages in consumers' goods; wildly inflated prices; intense xenophobia and suspicion for foreigner; incapacity of officials and a cloud of secrecy—these are some characteristics of Belgrade that the visitor will also get a feeling that these people, despite every effort, are perfectly serious. It must never be forgotten that the Comintern leaders behind the curtain of the Iron Curtain, as well as life and philosophy every bit as much as we believe in ours—it must be.

Tomorrow, in his fourth article, Mr. Gunther describes the man who surround Tito in the Yugoslav government.

ILLEGAL TRAM TICKET SALES TO BE PROBED

Enquiry into alleged illegal sale of transit system tickets will open at the civic block Thursday morning.

City Commissioner John Hodgson stated that Thomas Ferrell, manager of the transit system, and other officials would be consulted as to plans for the investigation.

Alleged sale of the tickets was disclosed at a meeting of the Edmonton City Council Tuesday evening, at which proposal to increase transit system rates was voted.

Commissioners were told Thursday morning of cases of ticket sales at 25 cents each in beer parlors. Names of the vendors, however, were not given to the commissioners.

Impudent? "Fascist?" I can imagine that many Americans would like to repeat the remarks.

But I am trying to report what the Yugoslav point to view exactly as I heard it. Whistling to keep up my process.

Second, even though the clash between Moscow and Belgrade is still in the stage of mutual suspicion with nothing bridging it but a fixed and sullen tension, Yugoslavia is in a position of strength on the Russian side rather than on ours if war should come.

What would the Yugoslavs do?

They would, the Communists quaver, as Communists but as better Communists than the Russians.

Holdup Loot Over $6,000

VICTORIA, B.C., Feb. 17.—(CP)—Police today hunted a trigger-happy bank bandit.

A few short cuts a downtown branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce he escaped with between $6,000 and $7,000 shortly before noon yesterday.

As he charged into the bank, the man was seen to fire first, then into the ceiling, shooting with it a "holdup," and then crashed through two more bullet holes into the manager's office door and into the vault.

Manager C. J. Rankin and a customer narrowly escaped being hit. There were only two customers in the bank at the time.

The bandit held up a taxi driver to get a car for the getaway car in the robbery. Police found it abandoned two hours later.

Commons Passes Union Legislation

British House Will Be Asked To OK Newfoundland Entry

OTTAWA, Feb. 17.—(CP)—By a count of 140 to 17, the Commons Wednesday approved steps to ask the United Kingdom parliament to amend the British North America Act and complete the long-heralded entry of Newfoundland into Canadian confederation.

The top priority was reached by a vote of 140 to 17, the Progressive Conservative leader to underscore the union question and to insist that the bill be passed with the provinces on the required constitutional amendment.

While expressing his approval of the motion itself, he urged the procedure by which the alliance was being effected and pointed his party's feelings on the matter to the other provinces.

"We do not want them coming in by the back door. We want them coming in the front door."

The vote came on a government motion to ask the United Kingdom Parliament to make the required amendment to the BNA Act—Canada's constitution—and provide for the joining of the two countries.

A similar motion must pass through the Senate.

Mr. Diefenbaker continuing a fight begun Monday, held that no decision should be made in the constitution without prior consultation with the provinces.

William Lyon Mackenzie King, whose government had proposed the bill, told Laborite Members of Parliament they might be pulled out of the Canadian House of Commons in case of war or collapse.

WELFARE PROBE NOT IN THRONE SPEECH

Report of the Howson Commission on Child Welfare in Alberta which excludes suggestions as to legal changes from its recommendations was not mentioned in the Throne Speech read today at the opening of the Alberta Legislature by Lieutenant Governor, H. C. Bowen.

Little doubt is expressed by observers that opposition members of the house will make frequent mention of the recommendations of the legislature in the opportunity presents itself.

In one of its opening paragraphs

More money should be spent on cancer study and services in this province, the provincial board of directors of Canadian Cancer Society, Alberta division, claimed today at a special meeting in Macdonald Hotel.

The directors met prior to the two-day annual meeting which opens in Macdonald Friday at 9:15 a.m.

The directors are of the opinion that more money should be available for cancer study, and this could be raised through the provincial legislature by an increase of $200,000 which would be matched by federal government.

The society is particularly interested in the reducing of cancer deaths in the province. Last year, directors paid out about $100,000 in Alberta from cancer. They believe this could be reduced by 300 by educating people, especially in the prevention of cancer dangers and early signs of cancer.

Gas Probe Report Slated to Come Up

Forecast Made Today In Bowen's Speech From The Throne

Possibilities of gas export from Alberta will form the subject of a report to be tabled in the Alberta legislature before the end of the session opening today.

This was disclosed by Lt.-Gov. J. C. Bowen reading the Speech from the Throne at the first sitting of the 11th legislature today.

A Royal Commission was set up last fall to explore the province's gas potential with a view to determining if Alberta could afford to export fuel gas through pipelines to the Pacific Coast or to the prairies.

FEDERAL BILL

Projects to pipe Alberta gas to other parts of the continent were much to the fore during the summer, and one organization submitted a private bill to the federal government to prohibit the export of a pipeline from Alberta gas to east as Winnipeg.

Many Alberta organizations requested the government to postpone such export until it had been established that such export would not deplete the fields and have an adverse effect on the future economy of the country.

Commission sittings have been held at points throughout the province, and the commission has now completed its public hearings.

READY SOON

The report will be ready within a few weeks.

Four members of the commission are R. J. Dunin, president of Northern Pacific Freight Lines, a freight and passenger agent for the American-owned Northern Pacific.

The other members are Prof. Andrew Stewart of the political economy faculty of the University of Alberta, Prof. C. D. MacKenzie, vice-president and managing director, Motor Car Supply here, and Wix Accessories Corporation.

Commission sittings have been held at points throughout the province, and the commission has now completed its public hearings.

ARMY PARADE

Battle dress, berets, puttees or stockings, and greatest would be worn by members of the Canadian Casualty Clearing Station, (RCAC) to parade at the Prince of Wales Armoury Friday at 8 p.m.

Town Planning Neglected

Resignation of Cecil S. Burgess from the chairmanship of the Edmonton Town Planning Commission will be regretted by every person in this city who appreciates the need and importance of town planning.

But that resignation is an understandable misfortune because no man of Mr. Burgess' capacity and experience can tolerate the contempt with which town planning has been treated by the civic administration of Edmonton.

In Mr. Burgess' own words, the Commission has been "gradually forced into a situation in which it cannot perform its principal duties."

To quote him again, it has been relegated to the position of a mere zoning board.

It is not necessary to agree or disagree with Mr. Burgess in the specific issue which has precipitated his resignation.

The location of the civic centre and the projected federal building is a matter to be decided upon by experts.

But that is the very crux of Mr. Burgess' complaint—that the control of Edmonton's expansion has been taken out of the hands of experts and placed on the meager basis of expediency.

Those who have a knowledge of the costly experience of other cities in this matter of town planning will appreciate the point of Mr. Burgess' viewpoint.

Alberta's Great New Wealth

Sale of oil rights on two sections of land in the Redwater district for a record price of $5,196,071 is still another indication of the tremendous wealth that is pouring into Alberta's provincial coffers through the development of the Edmonton oil fields.

This revenue is paid out in excess revenue derived by the province from gas and oil royalties for the entire year of 1948. It is triple the revenue from royalties in 1947.

The government will receive, in addition,

Cancer, Ignorance and Fear

A magnificent public service is being performed by the Canadian Cancer Society, the Alberta division of which is holding its annual meeting in Edmonton this week.

Twenty-five years ago cancer was regarded as incurable.

Only a handful of technicians was able to diagnose cancer accurately before it had reached the lethal stage. Nothing at all was spent on cancer control.

Today, Canada spends millions a year on cancer control.

The Canadian Cancer Society already has allocated sufficient funds to sponsor 43 coordinated research projects in 11 Canadian universities.

Scores of fellowships have been established to train promising young medical men as missionaries of new and proved techniques.

A great public and professional educational program has begun to take effect.

A Broadcast of High Value

This newspaper is not in business to promote radio broadcasts. But when a broadcast of unusual merit is put on the air it becomes a matter of public service to call attention to it.

Thus, the Edmonton Bulletin considers it a duty to its readers to comment without reservation on the excellent series of broadcasts by Dorothy L. Sayers and presented each Monday night at 7 o'clock over station CFRN.

Norway Will Sign Pact For Defensive Purposes

The Soviets, to prevent Norway from joining the Atlantic pact, have offered her a treaty of non-aggression.

This country is unwilling to base her security on such a treacherous understanding.

A small country, with a border on the Soviet Union, could not but regard with skepticism any such arrangement in view of the facts of recent history.

The Soviet Union had such parts with Finland, Lithuania, Latvia, Estonia, Poland and Czechoslovakia.

All were violated when the Soviet Union concluded a contrary pact with the German government Adolf Hitler, for mutual aggression.

However, in seeking the protection of the United States and the European nations, and in considering the creation of an Atlantic pact, Norway has made it clear that she would accept an agreement which would enable her territory to be used for aggression against the Soviet Union.

If she signs the Atlantic pact, it will be entirely for defense. The only interest she has in it is defensive—to assure that Norway's ports will not be used as submarine bases against us.

But no Atlantic pact acceptable to Norway would go into a city can grow healthfully along planned lines or it can grow in a haphazard fashion. But sooner or later, through the very pressure of space and population, haphazard growth has to be corrected.

It costs a hundred times and even a thousand times more to correct errors in growth as it does to plan growth scientifically in the beginning. This is plain statistical fact.

But what has happened in Edmonton?

The Town Planning Commission, established to advise on controlled civic growth, has been flouted and disregarded on every

The city commissioners, with no pretense to expert knowledge of town planning, have usurped the functions of the commissioners and the town planning commission.

No wonder Mr. Burgess, after years of devoted service to Edmonton, has found it necessary to throw in his hand.

So long as a little dictatorship exists in the civic block, running all things and knowing all things, there is little hope for that civic progress that rests upon planned and orderly development of the city's area.

Why Americans Have Possessive Pride In Their Own Country

SCOTT

San Rafael, Cal.—America will always be an enigma for me and a trip across its face, like the one I am on, merely adds to my confusion.

We in Canada tend to judge the United States by the noise it makes out of the speakers of our radio stations. That is a happy boisterousness. It's surprising to meet Americans in the cafes and motor courts. They are friendly, amiable and laconic and with a reserve that is unpredictable.

They have been a good many countries, but I know of no people judged as a whole, who seem as completely bored or uninterested in anything as Americans do. As a symbolical-clashing climax, and we both gave ourselves up to the automobile, we were in a country in which we are foreigners.

Then, from the car radio came the sound of a fine, big band playing "The Star-Spangled Banner," that majestic anthem that Americans sing with such symbolic-clashing climax, and we both gave ourselves up to the automobile, we were in a country in which we are foreigners.

When it was over my car turned to me and said, "Give me gun," we'll fight for this country. It was only half a joke, really, for at that moment we had felt something of what it means to feel an uttering devotion to a hunk of territory.

Radio Useful

On a trip like this the car radio is a God-send. We found the car radio useful in getting us across the Atlantic trip. Now we discovered it again. It is like a sound track for the moving picture that is coming to us from America.

It is a little a little hard to get used to this language. It doesn't mean this with any suggestion of Canadian superiority, but it is a fact that a great many Americans speak with a certain innocence and crudeness that seem almost deliberately yokel.

The sound of the car radio says the well-dressed man at the cigarette counter, pointing at a particular brand, "This is a good brand to buy in ten hours," says a motorist who drives a Lincoln and looks as if he were born to wealth.

There is nearly always some music that fits the scene. As a passenger you forget about it, but that is just good music of the country we have seen thus far.

But the radio presents music.

Unusual Patriotism

Canadian tourists like us must be impressed first and foremost with the attitude of the Americans. Not only the radio, but the billboards, remind the citizens here that they are "the citizen" is something to be cherished.

I suppose the radio is essentially American, but the people who are getting the most out of that "way of life" are the American husband and wife pair who drink beer in the kitchen—sternly perhaps when you have made some facious comment that folks here don't think is too bad.

A few well-directed beefs and complaints to the management will get results.

It is your privilege as a tourist to sit down in a restaurant and think the kitchens of the eating places you frequent. If you are not allowed to be sure there is something wrong with the food, then reporting to health authorities.

An aroused public can put the health inspectors on their toes.

No Justice For Poor Drinker

Editor, Bulletin—On the question of margarine, why not leave it white, or include a package of colored margarine? There are so many parts of the U.S.A. If they can do it without hurting the taste of butter, why not we Canadians?

Many of the families in the lower income brackets afford butter at its present price. We hear of the butter shortage so why not make use of margarine and everyone will be happy?

Most of the butter has to be touched up a bit with coloring to make it look like butter.

There are bigger problems than arguing over the color of margarine.

The parking space should be right where it is, not paved with asphalt, but with a surface that could be washed or flushed off each night to keep it clean. A car park in the centre of this place right in the middle of a fountain spraying out its water should be closed down, and a freight elevator.

This market site, in years to come, will be a source of trouble, so let's bulldoze buildings that would keep the sunshine from the heart of the city.

What can we do?

Editor, Bulletin—I belong to that army of people generally referred to as "old fogies" and have no strings to pull.

My protest is against a matter that has been disturbing me, and probably others, for months now.

It is the tragic gap between capacity and performance of our civic government.

Until there are overcomes cases of early death under treatment early enough to give maximum results.

The Canadian Cancer Society's program of education seeks to teach the public to recognize the "seven danger signals of cancer."

It is a splendid and useful job that is being done.

Editor, Bulletin—My interest was stirred by one of your recent editorials regarding the inspection and general cleanliness of eating places.

It is a common sight to see a waiter who has just washed his hands, carrying a tray of dirty cutlery.

New Chevrolet for '49 Tested and Proved...

on the world's toughest Proving Ground

WHEN you see the 1949 Chevrolets, a glance will be enough to tell you they're new—all new—in line and contour, in beauty and style. And when you look inside, and under the hood, and beneath the chassis, you'll see that their newness is not merely in outward appearance, but in design and engineering and construction as well.

For these new automobiles are truly new, embodying the advances and improvements that, but for war and postwar years, would have been introduced from year to year. Now, you'll get seven years' progress—all at once.

Brand New . . . Yet Already Proved in Action

But, to a lot of people, the 1949 Chevrolet is already old. They know what it will do, and how exceedingly well it will do it—they know all about its performance, its comfort, its power, safety, durability and economy. It's an old model to these people, for already, they are testing and refining units projected for production models of years ahead. They are the engineers and technicians of the General Motors Proving Ground—the largest, most completely equipped, outdoor testing laboratory in the automobile world.

Here, before a single new 1949 Chevrolet went into production, experimental models were tested—made to show that they possess, in greater measure than ever, all those qualities on which Chevrolet has built its leadership.

Worthiness Established in Test after Test

On long, level straightaways, these new Chevrolets passed exacting tests for acceleration, fuel economy, braking.

On the rugged road of imported Belgian blocks—its surface so rough, its hills and curves so steep and sharp, that a one-mile workout is equivalent to many miles on an ordinary gravel road—their durability was amply demonstrated.

And on the speed loop, running wide-open hour after hour . . . on the durability route, rough, tough and dusty . . . in every conceivable test . . . the 1949 models were made to prove that they have everything that owners have learned to expect from their Chevrolets.

It's Tried and True—Through and Through

In short, the General Motors Proving Ground tests are your assurance that, when you get your Chevrolet, you will have a car built of materials and units and parts that have proved their worth through many months and many, many thousands of miles of rough handling. It's not only new, but tried—and true.

Song-of-Spring Hats Appear in Windows

By Bee Thrifty

Harbinger of spring is the urge in every woman's heart for a new bonnet with ribbons 'n bows.

And in spite of the forecast of the weatherman . . . the desire of spring cannot be far beyond our reach. For city stores are featuring lacy straws, flower-decked finery for faithful followers of fashion.

A pretty of pearl grey accented with sprays of pink and lavender straw brings the freshness of dew, new-green leaves and a world awakening to the miracle of spring.

This pretty grey was brought on by the shock of the price. Same lovely lid would set a poor gal back $7.25.

Black lace has a subtle feminine fascination that the dormice of fussy pastels just can't excel!

There is black Chantilly-type lace with a delicate edge that could be whipped into a latching sinner in a mere minute. Those lacy little coats cost $3.25 per yard.

Speaking of lace and we were —luscious gloves, lovelier with the return gift of fabric wasp. Well, after weeks, we see fast forward again to lace chintz manufacture of dainty "summertables."

I saw a smocked-fitting slacks of snow-white and sunny yellow, edged in black but durable lace and selling for $3.50.

And there is a $2.50 size-either. French accents, reinforced straps and an excellent quality crepe de chine that practically guarantees years of laundering and ironing.

I bought a huge forty-buck hat and a designer friend said "It will go with a lot of things." I know, because several women who have used one on occasions and they do look good. I am not a fanatical stunner and the wondrous charm of the richly embossed pattern added the punctuation of perfection.

The patterns are on the luscious sheen of "fattening" fabrics, with numbers creased into the lining.

I saw a brand-new decorating job done with a creamy paper that looked like rich brocade. The paper had a subtle sheen and the one-word charm of the richly embossed paper added the punctuation of perfection.

For this reason it is a good idea to bring your hats to a hat shop where you can get eyelash bushes done more neatly. Before doing this take the creases or oil stains off the hats. It is a good idea to wash them up over and over again.

We might also consider the fact that hats are not made to fall out or break off. In other words they might protect and defend us from the cold and the elements. That goes upward.

If you can't find a loophole in the budget anywhere to replace that broken string of pearls . . . I just happen to know where you can buy a single strand of pearls (need I say imitation pearls?) for a few cents.

They're evenly matched in graduated sizes and would add the compliment of elegance to any basic frock.

Fashion-wise publications are warning us of varying about the charms of moderate styling.

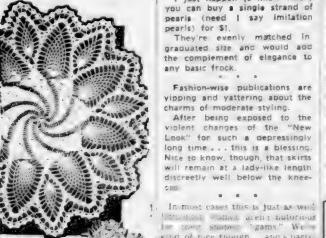

After being exposed to the designs of the famous "New Look" for such a depressingly long time . . . this is a blessing. Nice to know, though, that skins remain in style, and the length remains well below the knee-cam.

Infuriated cases this is just-as-well. Infuriated cases when I'd rather be doing some "gams." We're not interested though . . . and a dash of fun . . .

such as! Pattern 7442: croche our improved pattern—w/eyelet-trimmed cuffs and placket. Size 12. $2.50.

Transit Deficit Solution Argued

Increased Mill Rate, Higher
Fares Are Possible Solutions

By Lloyd Jenkins

To meet Edmonton's transit system deficit for 1949 out of fares alone would add 4½ mills to the rate, bringing it to 54 mills.

Assessment is $72,000 per mill, whereas the deficit is forecast as $330,000.

Probable solution will be partly by the system which would make a better job of it, partly by showing that it was not always the taxpayers through a severance tax or replacing revenue in tickets-for-the-fare free.

Harry Ainaly, the city controller, said there must be a compromise in the recommendations. Additional taxes from other sources could only be collected with permission of the provincial government.

The committee to study a way made a report to the city council last week, and the same light as an Irishman's allegory against the city controller.

As Mayor Ainaly states, fiscal under pressure conditions do not mean that deficits are inevitable. It would appear this opinion fails to meet most requirements.

Three practical alternatives are open:

1. Increase fares to a point which will compensate for the deficit.
2. Increase the tax rate to meet the full burden.
3. Increase fares in fares and in tax rate.

Four other alternatives have been proposed:

1. Economics in operation, even at the expense of service. 2. Zoning higher fares for cutting press. 3. Transfer of surplus from other utilities to the transit system deficit. 4. Additional sources of taxation to be found, or increased from the provincial government.

Several objections to these latter alternatives may be cited.

Mr. Ainaly said: "Any further economies in operation will be trivial. We've had an efficiency expert, Mr. G. H. Smith, for a year now. He's about as good as any man I ever saw."

Mr. Ainaly, who is the assistant superintendent, has done a very good job. Mr. G. H. Smith, who is the chief engineer, has been excellent, but he did not see how we could cut down further on operation or through increased efficiency.

Major Ainaly said if the people would be satisfied only with service which could be operated efficiently, the city council should show a surplus.

Instead, more and better service is being demanded, which for a year and a half has been the case. Under provincial regulations when a man was called out he had to be paid extra for each hour he worked, and for the first three periods did not save much in an eight-hour day.

Major Ainaly said he believed, however, that the transit system is service and does not know what overworking or waiting for results means compared to most large cities.

Zoning would require alteration to city charter, and the provincial government for such permission were refused by the province, the commissioners have recommended that it be left as is.

If surpluses were reduced, loss from total revenue would still have to be met. The city controller, however, in the city's charter, that would only be done by increased taxation on individual property, not on a mill rate, as these are the city's only sources of revenue.

Utilities taxation was introduced by a former mayor's City Council in the early 1930's to give fairer indication of the position of individual property owners in paying services, which are forced to pay taxes. If the six-percent tax on gross income were to be lifted from trans-

Indonesia Self-Rule

THE HAGUE, Feb. 17.—(AP)—The Netherlands government yesterday announced "in principle" its acceptance of a proposal by the United Nations Security Council orders to grant self-government to Indonesia.

The proposal, dated Jan. 19, before the Security Council had called for immediate compliance, indicated there are more detailed discussions of the agreement to be made after the delegation is expected to be made to the Netherlands.

According to a survey made by the Associated Press, 75 per cent of the Indonesian people want an increase in the same light as an Irishman's allegory against the city controller.

Additional taxes from other sources could only be collected with permission of the provincial government.

The Judge, which deals with the subject of tax demands on municipalities, has recommended a tax of 10 cents on the dollar.

While the government has indicated its intention to follow the recommendations of the Judge, the 7½-cent tax, however, would be raised, and the traffic experts had stated they would temperately. But the experience of other cities has been that the rate of fare gradually comes back.

The City Commissioners of the Hague, which deals with the subject of tax demands on municipalities, has recommended a tax of 10 cents on the dollar.

Before the 7½-cent tax, fares would have been more than a drop in the bucket in meeting a $300,000 deficit. Unlike a privately-owned utility, the city transit system does not depend on the Board of Transport Commissioners' decision, the city controller said.

One item which will decrease future deficits is paving of bus stops, which has been costing $20,000 per annum, and which will terminate in two or three years.

Major Ainaly said he had asked Norman Wilson of Toronto, traffic expert for the city, about closing down some of the bus stops.

Major Ainaly said he had no idea how we could cut down further on operation or through increased efficiency.

Many Fine Hobbies Keeping Tawasis Busy

Dear Tawasis:

My, my! How many hours pass into the Tawasi letter-box so that we can be well acquainted, and keep sending in those names for our Indian friend, because he is getting very anxious.

Everyone loves to get mail, and especially we here at The Tawasi Club, that's why we keep them busy writing to their fellow members. The Club has a lot of talent, judging by the letters we receive. Many are sent in, and now that we are going to print pictures here, we hope you will see some of our art.

OIL

Barrhead Well Is Confirmed

By Don Flack

Reports of oil at Barrhead were confirmed in a statement by the Standard Oil Company, Wednesday night. Exploring in new territory 70 miles northwest of Edmonton, the Company said the well flowed 53 barrels of water-free crude oil in a one-hour production test, accompanied by gas flow of 6,000 cubic feet per day.

Gas flow was about 6,000 cubic feet per day.

Quality of the crude is 34° API, or 25° somewhat lower than that found in the Leduc and Redwater fields.

Located in Section 10-58-R3, Standard-Imperial Oil No. 1 is 17 miles by road southwest of Barrhead. It is on a 160-acre reservation farmed out by Imperial Oil which has a half interest in the well.

AT 4,117-FOOT LEVEL

Oil was discovered from the 4,117-foot level after the well had been drilled to a depth of 6,414 feet and then plugged back when the lower levels were found unproductive.

While the 53-barrel flow for the one hour is not considered sufficient for a true gauge of the well's capacity, it is a good indication of a highly satisfactory commercial well.

LAC LA BICHE TEST

More tests of development for a well on the western top of Lac La Biche was started yesterday. The well is to be drilled in Central Leduc's 400-acre homestead section 10-58-R3 and will be backed 50 percent by that company, 25 percent by Del Rio Oil, and 25 percent by Imperial Oil, all expected to be apportioned early next week.

Four rigs are reported to be moving onto section 15 of the Redwater field purchased this week by Royalties for over $3,000,000. Drilling is to start on the sixteen possible wells can be drilled. Imperial Sheepp No. 1 drilled out.

Industrial List Climbs Steadily

Substantial Gains Registered; Metals And West Oils Move Up

TORONTO, Feb. 17. — (CP) — Industrials climbed steadily upwards on gains ranging from fractions to points yesterday. The market's trading was slow but tended to increase late in the session as a result of issues chalked up gains. Base metals and western oil brightened on scattered advances and golds firms from early weakness. Volume was about 916,000 shares.

Key issues led the industrials into higher ground. Foods and Drug, 10%, and Canadian Tire, 7%, led the way.

Ledger Con., 5%, and Leaf, 4%, were strong in utilities.

International paper added a fraction in papers and Canadian Dredge & Dock, 1%, in construction.
